Dear Mr. Couram:

This is in response to your email communication dated July 15, 2013, to the Office for Civil Rights (OCR), U.S. Department of Education (Department), in your email communication you requested a status relating to your docket case 07-10-2112 against Friends University. I am pleased to respond.

According to our Case Management System you received a final determination letter from Randolph Wills on behalf of Sandra Battle, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Enforcement on January 22, 2013.

As mentioned in that letter to you dated January 22, 2013, from Sandra Battle, DAS (attached), she informed you that you have exhausted all avenues of review and reconsideration with the Department with this matter, and that the Department will not be able to assist you any further. The January 22, 2013 letter constitutes the agency's final decision on this case. You should note that further communications from you regarding your case number 07-10-2112 will be placed in your file without a response from OCR.

I hope the information provided is of assistance to you.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Stover,

Am I ever going to get a ruling on the Appeal?

It's been well over 2 years since I filed.

Dear Madam,

I never recieved any response from anyone in January.
There is absolutely no record of it.
I made it clear from the beginning that I was homeless and could only be assured of getting correspondence from this email account.

This was acknowledged by OCR correspondent.
